What Is Aromatherapy?

- Ancient holistic therapy dating back 5000 years
- Uses for herbs, spices and resins are documented on Egyptian papyri, Vedic scripts from India and the Yellow Emperors book of internal medicine from China
- Scientific basis for blending pure essential oils from herbs, resins, spices & flowers
- Balances the body and activates its healing power with natural therapeutics
- Works on the physical, mental, emotional and spiritual levels
- Powerful natural healing therapy using the essence of plants in a highly condensed form
- Aromatherapy has been a generally accepted and respected treatment in both France and England

How Aromatherapy works

- Emotional Level:

- Smelling the scent
- Triggers a response in the limbic brain
- Immediately changes the mood, relieving depression, renewing joy and balance

- Mental Level:

- Essential oils absorb through the mucous membranes
- Can pass the blood-brain barrier and affect the brain directly
- Relieving anxiety and stress, correcting imbalances, neutralizing nervous tension, stimulating and focusing the brain

- Physical Level:

- Absorbed through the skin during massage or bath
- Nourishes the skin and absorbs into the blood stream
- Directly affecting organs, clearing sinuses, strengthening the immune system, balancing blood pressure, stimulating blood flow and circulation, reducing inflammation and removing toxins

Essential Oils and Aromatherapy

- Steam Distillation:

The most commonly used technique to isolate essential oils from most herbs, grasses, roots and trees

- Expression:

Citrus fruits are pressed, yielding essential oils of Bergamot, lemon, orange etc.

- Extraction:

CO₂ – the best solvent leading to pure and superior essential oils

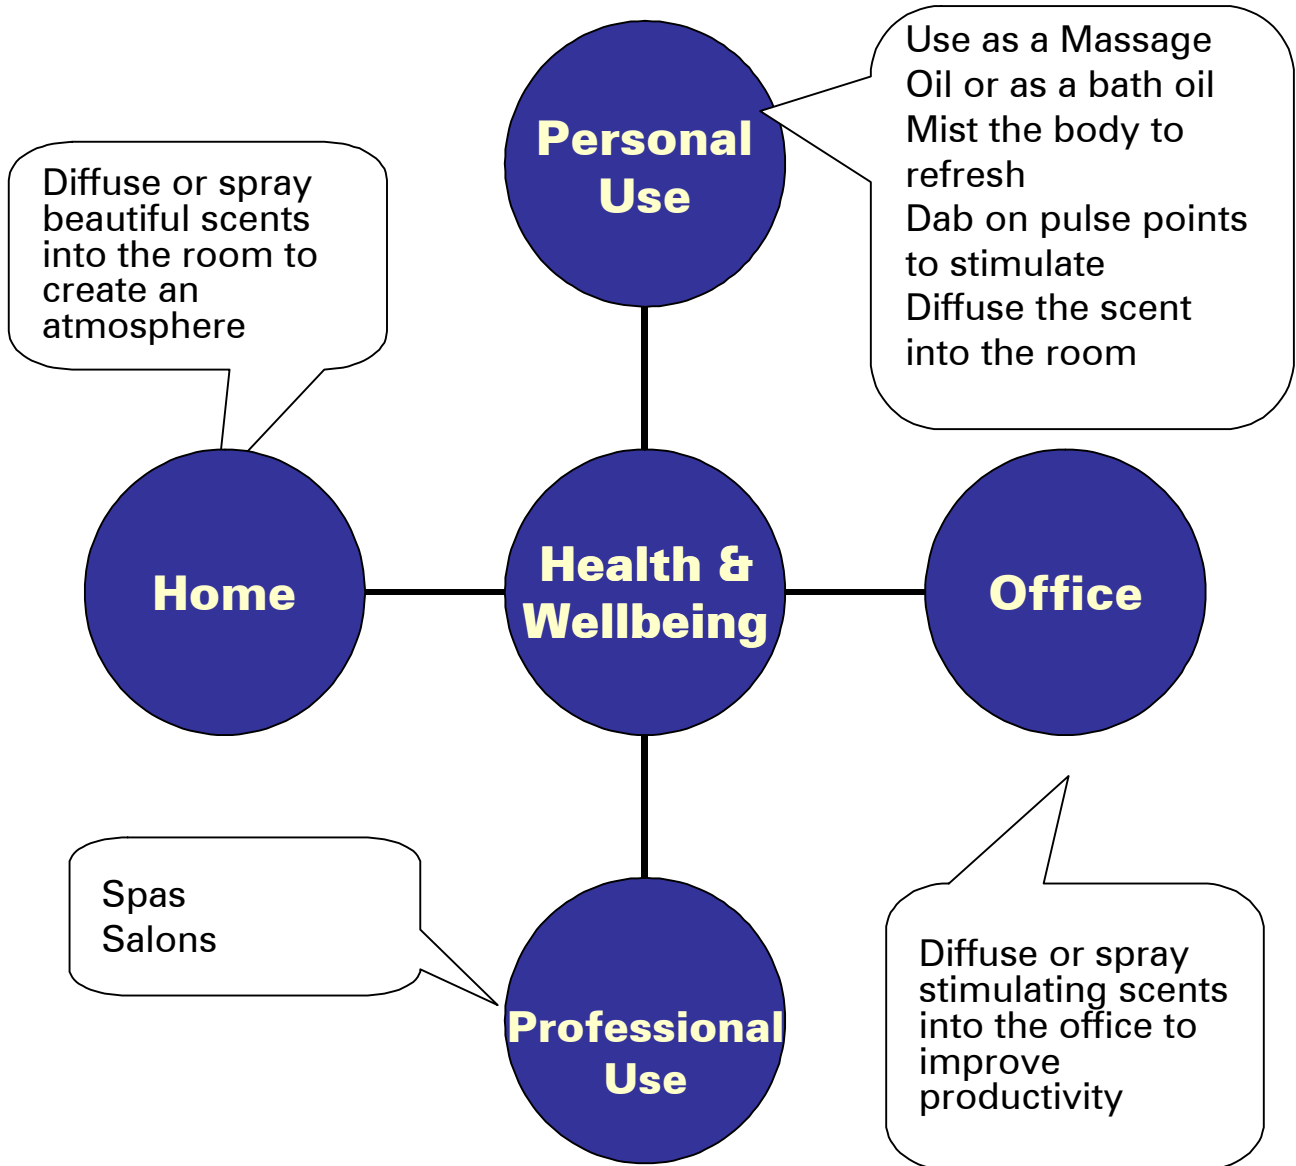

Organic solvents – May leave chemical residues and are considered problematic

NOTE: only products based on pure and unadulterated essential oils should be called Aromatherapy. Unless it is 100% pure, it is NOT Aromatherapy. Synthetic products will not have the same healing effects and may have adverse effects.

Aromatherapy Uses

Aromatherapy has been used for centuries to enhance the body, mind and spirit. It is a natural way to improve your health and wellbeing and create a balanced lifestyle.
